Camp Ambassador Guide

WHAT IS A CAMP AMBASSADOR?

The role of a camp ambassador is to share camp and retreat opportunities with children, youth, adults and families in your local churches and communities and provide information about how to become involved in this life-changing ministry. More specifically, as a camp ambassador, you act as the spokesperson within your churches for the United Methodist Camp and Retreat Ministry. You are the conduit for information to flow between camps and individual congregations. Ambassadors work closely with your pastor(s), Christian education staff, church families, and Dakotas-Minnesota Area United Methodist Camps (DK-MN Camps) staff to help make sure families are aware of camp opportunities throughout the year, but primarily in the spring, when registration for summer camps is busiest.

CAMP AMBASSADORS ARE ASKED TO:

- Work with your church leaders to plan a Camp Sunday celebration—a day for people to learn about United Methodist Camps during worship, Sunday school, and fellowship times.
- Help to pick out camp weeks for various age groups to attend.
- Work with church leaders to set a goal for camp participation and find ways to financially support campers.
- Promote DK-MN Camps through announcements, bulletins, social media, and newsletters.
- Discuss Dakotas-Minnesota Area United Methodist Camps in worship, in Sunday school, and with youth groups.
- Inform your congregation about how, when, and where to register for camp.
- Answer questions and encourage people to register for camp!

WHY CAMP?

For generations, countless people's lives and hearts have been changed after time spent at one of your six Dakotas-Minnesota area campsites. Many share that it was during a time at camp when they first truly connected with God in a personal and meaningful way. Encounters such as these still positively impact the lives of today's campers and today's churches.

Time at camp provides children, youth, adults, and families with life-changing and faith-shaping opportunities to experience Christ, Creation, and Community in a truly unique way. Campers learn new activities; make new friends; spend time in nature; grow in skill, confidence, and leadership; and have fun doing it in a carefully supervised environment.

Each location provides an unforgettable camp experience through which camper's lives can be changed forever. DK-MN camps are open to everyone!

GET READY!

MAKE A PLAN FOR YOUR CHURCH

1. SET A DATE FOR CAMP SUNDAY

Work with your pastor(s) and education staff to find a date that works best for you. Get it on your church calendar and start promoting! Some churches make the whole service (scripture, children's message, message, hymns) about changed lives and opportunities at camp. That is ideal, but your church may choose instead to simply make announcements, pass out information, and extend invitations. Whatever the case, be sure to choose a Sunday when you anticipate a strong turnout.

If you would like, a camp representative may be available to visit your church to assist with your Camp Sunday celebration. Camp representatives may be able to provide the message/sermon, lead a time of children's worship, lead Sunday school activities, share camp opportunities during a fellowship hour, provide a display in a common area, bring handouts and giveaways, or simply be present to cheer you and your church leaders on! If you are interested in a camp representative visiting your church, please contact your closest campsite or the camping central office.

2. SET A GOAL FOR PARTICIPATION

Set a realistic and achievable goal. Take into consideration how many people went to camp last year, the number of new families in the church, and your congregation's financial capacity to support campers. To find out how many people from your church attended camp in past years, contact the central camping office.

3. PLAN THE BUDGET & ARRANGE FUNDRAISERS

Find out how much money is set aside or available to support campers from your church. Talk to your church leaders about whether your church can contribute a portion of the cost for each child who signs up for camp. Many churches contribute 50-100% of the total cost, while others contribute a set amount per camper. Consider helping your church arrange a fundraiser to support your campers. Camp Sunday may be a great day for it! Fundraisers could involve: a dinner prepared by youth, car washes, bake sales, and any other fun opportunities you can think of.

There are also conference camp scholarships (camperships) available; to learn more about them, please see our websites:

Dakotas: <https://www.dakotasumc.org/camping/forms/campership-form>

Minnesota: <https://www.campminnesota.org/camperships>

4. REQUEST MATERIALS FROM DK-MN CAMPS

A box of brochures and promotional posters will be sent to each church in January. For your Camp Sunday, plan to have enough brochures available for each child in your church community to receive one (plus have extras to keep on hand to pass out throughout the spring). Contact the central camping office (855) 622-1973 (toll-free) to request more brochures.

5. ENLIST HELPERS

Find a few “camp friends” within your church who might be willing to help with tasks, speak about their camping experiences, and answer questions.

6. START GETTING THE WORD OUT

Contact (via e-mail, social media, or postal mail) every family in your congregation to let them know the date for Camp Sunday, related fundraisers, and any other opportunities to learn about DK-MN Camps.

Create a display in a common area where families come and go. The display should include a poster and brochures.

Check the Camp Ambassador section of our websites for the following tools and information:

Short video clips:

1-minute promo: Play this during announcement times at worship or at other church gatherings.

3-minute promo: Play this as an extended announcement during Camp Sunday and show it to Sunday school groups.

Camp Sunday worship resources: Use these scriptures, prayers, and hymn suggestions when you discuss DK-MN Camps opportunities with your congregation.

A PDF version of this camp ambassador’s guide is also on our websites.

Find all this at <https://www.dakotasumc.org> and <https://www.campminnesota.org>

GET SET!

WHILE IT IS CRITICAL TO REMIND FAMILIES THROUGHOUT THE SPRING TO REGISTER FOR CAMP, CAMP SUNDAY IS WHEN MOST PEOPLE WILL HEAR (OFTEN FOR THE FIRST TIME) ABOUT CAMP AND RETREAT OPPORTUNITIES!

4-6 WEEKS BEFORE CAMP SUNDAY

Familiarize yourself with what is happening at DK-MN Camps this summer so you’re ready to share with children, youth, and families! For example, did you know that campers today get to water ski, paddle kayaks, sleep in tree houses, ride horses, climb mountains, learn archery, travel to water parks, explore the Boundary Waters, swing from zip lines, and climb ropes high in the air as part of their camping experience?

- Look through a copy of the camp brochure to see a list of all events offered this summer.
- Feel free to contact DK-MN Camps staff or staff at a specific campsite (contact numbers on back of this guide) to ask questions or learn more about camp opportunities.
- Choose to target 3-4 events you feel would be a good fit for your congregation; events that you know would be of interest, are held at a close campsite, or perhaps an event someone from your congregation is leading. Targeting a handful of events can allow for churches to arrange transportation more easily, ensures that kids will be going with at least a few friends, and makes the brochure a bit less overwhelming for new campers and families.

Promote Camp Sunday in these ways:

- Make announcements about Camp Sunday during worship.
- Create an article for church newsletter that talks about Camp Sunday
- Put information about Camp Sunday in the church bulletin and/or on screens during worship.
- Share fun camp tidbits and photos through your church's social media platforms.

Here's the information to share in your Camp Sunday promotions:

- Camp Sunday date.
- Need for prayers for families to become involved.
- Need for financial support for campers from your church.
- The opportunity to wear comfortable "camp" clothes to worship on Camp Sunday: jeans or shorts, camp T-shirt or sweatshirts from a previous summer, hats, etc.

2-4 WEEKS BEFORE CAMP SUNDAY

Work with your pastor(s) and other worship leaders. Share with them how you would like to incorporate DK-MN Camps into worship on Camp Sunday through related scriptures, readings, children's message, prayers, hymns, and songs. (See the Camp Ambassador portion of our websites for Camp Sunday ideas and suggestions.)

Enlist youth to read scripture or lead worship in other ways on Camp Sunday. Recruit past campers to share their experiences with the congregation (highlights, what they learned, how they grew in their faith, and what they're looking forward to this summer).

Decorate the church in a camping/outdoor theme. A few ideas: set up a tent in the fellowship hall, create a mock fire with a ring of rocks by the main door into the sanctuary, place a crude wooden cross on the altar, or place camp-themed centerpieces in the fellowship hall. The possibilities are endless!

Plan a camp related snack or activity. S'more fixings, granola, trail mix, gummy worms, etc.

Consider holding a fundraiser of some type to raise money to help support campers from your church.

Continue promoting Camp Sunday through announcements, newsletter, social media, bulletin, or on screens. Remind people to wear camp clothes.

CAMP SUNDAY: THE BIG DAY

Worship and Sunday school: Follow the plans you have made for Camp Sunday, including incorporating it into worship, involving youth, showing a camp video, and making verbal announcements. See the Worship section later in this guide for outlines and suggestions about how to address each group.

ONE WEEK AFTER CAMP SUNDAY

Worship: Let people know that if they missed Camp Sunday last week, they can still get information and register for camp. Let them know how to do that and remind them about the financial assistance your church is providing.

Sunday school: Pass out catalogs and brochures to any children who weren't at church last week. Continue to use provided videos during worship, Sunday school, and with youth groups.

2-6 WEEKS AFTER CAMP SUNDAY...AND BEYOND

Continue to spread the word during announcement times, in church newsletters, on social media, at Sunday school, and to youth groups.

Call youth, children, and families in the church to encourage them to register for camp and to answer their questions.

Use the promo videos during worship and Sunday school and with youth groups.

Arrange rides to camp as needed. Find out when families from your church are attending camp, and try to arrange carpooling.

Follow up with all campers. Often, children's camp experiences provide their first exposure to Christ in nature. It is not uncommon, after camp, for new campers and their families to begin attending their local United Methodist Church. Make sure to follow up with all campers after camp—and create a time for them to share their experiences during worship. Invite them to join in your church's fall activities.

1. Introduce yourself.

2. Tell congregation about Camp Sunday.

- Learn that God is always with them and loves them no matter what.

Note that:

- Every family will receive a camp brochure (they'll be distributed to all children in Sunday school that same day).

- If they know of others who would like to attend camp (grandchildren, children's classmates or friends, neighbors, coworkers with children, etc.), they can pick up additional materials after worship.
- Camping opportunities are offered through The Dakotas and Minnesota Annual Conferences of the United Methodist Church. The camping team is always listening, adding events, and responding to the needs of today's children, youth, adults, and families.
- Camp changes lives by helping people see and experience God in new ways!

5. Hold up a catalog. Tell the congregation that:

- There are six campsite locations in the Dakotas-Minnesota Area:
 - » In Minnesota: Northern Pines Camp in Park Rapids, Koronis Ministries in Paynesville, and Kowakan Adventures near Ely.

- Five of our six Dakotas-Minnesota Area United Methodist Camps are accredited by the American Camp Association, meaning that they meet standards for operation, quality, health, and safety.

One in five camps nationwide achieves this distinction. Storm Mountain Center will be seeking accreditation in 2019.

- Make sure that you have a Dakotas-Minnesota Area United Methodist Camps catalog and brochure before you leave church today.
- Let people know you'll be available after the service to answer questions, pass out brochures, and help with registration.

6. Funding is available for camp.

(Be sure to have talked to your pastor(s) and other church leaders about this in advance.)
"The church understands that attending camp is important—so important that the church has funds available to help everyone go to camp. This year, each child can receive $_____ to go towards camp fees. And if families need additional financial assistance for the remaining cost, talk to me or the pastor and we'll come up with a solution."

Camperships: Money is also available through the DK-MN Camps office for those who can't afford to go to camp. Interested families, or their churches, should contact the central camping office to learn more. We believe that every child should have a Christian camping experience, and no camper will be turned away due to a personal lack of funds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Before Sunday school begins, make sure:

- You've had a chance to visit with the pastor(s) and/or church education staff.
- You know how much the church will help to pay for each camper to attend camp.
- You have a plan for visits with Sunday school classes (i.e. travel to each classroom, address as one large group, etc.)

- Make sure children know that ALL events include swimming, crafts, great food, s'mores, Bible study, campfires, and music.

6. Funding is available for camp. (Be sure to have talked to your pastor(s) and other church leaders about this in advance.) Let the kids know that their church understands that attending camp is important—so important that the church has funds available to help everyone go to camp. "This year, each child can receive $___ to go towards camp fees. If the amount left is still too much for your family to pay, let your Sunday School teacher, pastor, or someone else at church know. We'll make sure ALL kids can go to camp."
